When they saw that the star had stopped, they were overwhelmed with joy. On entering the house, they saw the child with Mary his mother; and they knelt down and paid him homage. Then, opening their treasure-chests, they offered him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

CHILDREN'S MINISTRY

New Year, New Ritual, Same Family

It's a new year and we want to encourage your family to make a family resolution! Maybe you could begin a daily ritual of practicing hellos and goodbyes, or you could designate a "no technology hour" each day for the whole family. You could vow to have family meals together at least twice a week, or determine how you want to give your resources this year, whether through money or time. The possibilities are endless! The challenge is to create space for your family to be together in community, to have real, connected conversation, and to grow together. We are excited to spend 2018 with you and your families and eager to hear what you've decided.

Navigators to Host Room in the Inn

Our Navigators (4th and 5th graders) have the exciting opportunity to host our neighbors experiencing homelessness at Room in the Inn on Sunday, January 28.

NAVIGATORS

Navigators and their families will help with set-up, next-day lunch preparation, and dinner preparation, and will share a meal and conversation with our neighbors. We look forward to this evening of service and fellowship together. Watch for an email with additional details.

OUTREACH & MISSION

Rama Road Elementary School Needs You!

Christ Church has enjoyed a long partnership at Rama Road. Parishioners are involved in a variety of activities at the school to build relationships and truly make a difference for the students and teachers. Will you consider joining our partnership as a tutor, classroom helper or lunch buddy? Volunteers can commit to once a week or once a month – we can make it work for your schedule! Thirty minutes a week is all it takes to make a difference in a child's life. For more information, contact Jeanne Kutrow, Rama Road Volunteer Coordinator, at 704-201-6452 or jkutrow@gmail.com.

Costa Rica Mission Trips for Youth and Parents

For more than 20 years, Christ Church has been building relationships with our brothers and sisters in Costa Rica. Our youth will once again participate in various projects with the Diocese of San José on our annual mission trip this summer.

Trips for youth (rising 10th grade or older) and their parents are scheduled for July 14 - 22 and July 21 - 29. We will stay at the Diocesan House in San José and work wherever the needs are greatest for most of the week.

The last few days of the trip will also include a visit to Manuel Antonio on the west coast, to experience a bit more of the country. There we will enjoy a number of activities, which may include touring the national park, canopy tours, surfing, horseback riding, shopping, or simply hanging out by the pool or beach. The cost of this trip is approximately $2,000 and includes airfare, accommodations, all transportation, and most meals. If you are interested in participating or have questions, contact Laura Konitzer at konitzerl@christchurchcharlotte.org or Josiah Daniels at danielsj@christchurchcharlotte.org.

Help Make a House a Home

Have you been looking for a way to get more seriously involved in making a difference in our community while building new and lasting relationships? If so, we have a great opportunity for you!

Christ Church is partnering with Charlotte Family Housing (CFH) to form several Hope Teams for CFH families. With the help of a CFH social worker, Hope Teams partner with a family to provide love, support, and encouragement as the family moves from homelessness toward permanent housing and self-sufficiency. At present, fewer than 10% of CFH's families are supported by Hope Teams, so the need is great.

As a member of a Hope Team, you will have the opportunity to be an integral part in helping a newly-housed CFH family succeed. Teams support families in a variety of ways, from helping parents prepare for teacher conferences to celebrating major family events like birthdays and graduations. All adults are welcome to participate, regardless of your experience with housing and homelessness.

For more information, visit www.christchurchcharlotte.org/hopeteams, or contact Josiah Daniels at danielsj@christchurchcharlotte.org.

Habitat For Humanity: Help Us Build our 30th Home

This year Christ Church will build our 30th Habitat home. Volunteers with any level of experience are invited to help us build a new home for a loving family, from the foundation to the roof! We promise that you will learn a lot, meet new people, and be a part of an amazingly rewarding experience.

Beginning February 22, Habitat workdays run from 8:00 AM to 4:00 PM, but if you can only come by for a morning, an afternoon, or a couple of hours, you are most welcome. A scrumptious lunch is also provided. All volunteers must be age 16 or older.

The Habitat build is a great way to involve a small group of people, promote fellowship, and do some good. Last year, multiple small groups signed up, including young adults, Episcopal Church Women, a men's Bible study, and a group of older youth. Visit www.christchurchcharlotte.org/habitat to learn more or sign up.

Christ Church Foundation Grants Announced

The Christ Church Foundation is delighted to announce that seven deserving agencies received one-time grants in 2017, totaling $63,000. Agencies funded include: Southminster; RAIN; Society of St. Andrew; Penick Village; Jumpstart; Refugee Support Services; and Safe Alliance. In addition, CCF also provided generous funds to support the building of Christ Church's Habitat for Humanity home. All outreach funds are designated in coordination with the Outreach Commission.

Founded November 21, 1962, the Christ Church Foundation serves as a permanent endowment for this parish. As of October 31, 2017, the Foundation's total assets stand at $4.2 million. The trust administered by the Foundation now consists of six distinct funds: Outreach; Property, Plant and Equipment; Clergy Housing Fund; Scholarship Fund; Habitat for Humanity; and a small unrestricted opportunity fund.

The management and administration of Foundation assets are directed by nine Trustees appointed by the Vestry. Current CCF board members are Carrington Coulter, Ned Hardison, Frank Horne, Mary Kluttz, Mark Mealy, Arrington Mixon, Skip Smart, Parkie Thomas, and Paul Tolmie. In addition, the Senior Warden, Junior Warden, and the Chair of the Outreach Commission serve as ex-officio Trustees, as does the Rector.

The Foundation gratefully accepts both unrestricted and restricted contributions as designated by donors and the Trustees. Bequests and other non-traditional estate planning devices are most welcome, in addition to memorial and honorary gifts. All gifts to the Christ Church Foundation will be endowed in perpetuity, with investment proceeds used to enhance the good works of Christ Church, and will not be used to supplement annual operating expenses.

Interested in supporting the Christ Church Foundation? Contact Kimberly Mize in the Stewardship Office at mizek@christchurchcharlotte.org or 704-714-6973.

CONGREGATIONAL CARE

Who's a "Good Boy?"

Theo, the therapy dog! He is thriving at his job at HopeWay. Clients and counselors love to have him around.

"Theo has been particularly helpful for clients who are experiencing extreme distress, whether it is anxiety or depression," says Alison Todd, Director of Clinical Services at HopeWay. "He also helps clients who suffer from Post Traumatic Stress Disorder and psychotic disorders, as he brings a calming presence and helps to ground clients to the moment (time and place of where they are) which provides a sense of safety and security. Theo is such a gentle dog; he is patient and his eyes express a connect-edness with an almost human-like quality. There have been times that clients have sat with him on the floor and cried; at other times the clients and staff take him for walks on the trails or sit outside with him to enjoy the fresh air and stillness of nature. Theo has welcomed anxious clients on their first days of treatment and been with clients as they celebrate their last before they re-enter back into their lives in the community. He has been a complete joy to have at HopeWay and a valued member of the HopeWay family. I cannot thank you enough for your kindness and generosity of this gift."

Theo does not live at HopeWay as originally planned. It was determined that both HopeWay and Theo would be better served if Theo had a forever family to go home to at night and came to work during the day. Parishioners Beth and Dennis Brady have taken Theo in to their home, and you can see them bring Theo to church with them most Sundays. Theo is also now more available for Christ Church handlers to take Theo to visit parishioners, for instance he is fast becoming popular at Southminster. A team of parish-ioners is driving Theo to work on Tuesdays, while HopeWay staff bring him other days. He is a perfect passenger. If you want to help Theo to work on Tuesday, contact Lisa Saunders at saundersL@christchurchcharlotte.org.

Living with Grief and Hope

A four-week series for those coping with grief and loss will be held on Wednesday evenings February 21 through March 14, 7:00 - 8:15 PM. A daytime offering will be held on the same Wednesdays, 1:00 - 2:15 PM.

Grief can be a pathway to growth, not in a way that justifies the pain or loss, but in a way that pays homage to our loss. No one need carry grief alone either; knowing that others understand how we feel can lessen the hurt and strengthen the hope.

Each meeting will be led by The Reverend Lisa Saunders. To register, contact her at saundersL@christchurchcharlotte.org or 704-714-6952.

Challenging Our Aesthetics

By Brian Sullivan, Contemporary Music Leader

In a previous issue of The Disciple, I began a conversation about how all things were once new or “contemporary.” This month I ask you to think about the nature of our sonic worship, and how contemporary music might challenge our aesthetic and spiritual understanding of how we steward the materials of creation.

I have a soft spot for acoustic instruments – mandolins, guitars, violins – works of art in wood and steel, exemplars of how we can lovingly shape the raw materials of creation to the glory of God. We’ve been making instruments a long time. The psalmist speaks of honoring God with the instruments of his day – trumpets, ram’s horns, the lyre, the clanging cymbal, the resounding cymbal. We have added many more instruments to our worship spaces in the intervening centuries – organs, sackbuts, crumhorns, oboes, countless others. Each musical invention has challenged our aesthetic sensibility and provided new sonic material to our worship. Then someone found a spark, a new element of creation to steward in useful and worshipful ways: electricity.

I also have a soft spot for electronic instruments – synthesizers, theremins, amplifiers, loop pedals, drum machines – works of art in wire and plastic. The current in our 110v wall outlets is like the one that drives our hearts and minds, the same one that splits the stormy sky – a fundamental element of God’s gift to us. These new creations, like the oboe or organ before them, have brought new sounds into our worship spaces, sounds not heard until human hands obeyed the creative impulse.

Can you name an unnatural sound? If we say that an electronic sound is unnatural, then we deny our own existence as part of nature. We are natural, God is natural – all things are natural. We each have aesthetic preferences, things that speak beauty and comfort to our hearts. But God is continually allowing us to peel back the layers and mysteries of creation. New aesthetic materials can challenge us to hear God differently, and perhaps even to better understand our neighbors. This month I challenge you to hear the world differently, to pay attention to an unfamiliar, and perhaps uncomfortable corner of our sonic tapestry. People of all traditions, races, and nations are doing beautiful things in God’s name. They echo the eternal truth: that the heavens (raw elements and the electric spark of life) are telling the glory of God.

Visit www.christchurchcharlotte.org/contemporary to learn more about the music we use in our Contemporary Eucharist, and keep in touch.

Notes from the Music Department...

January 14 – 16, the Board of Directors of The Royal School of Church Music will hold their annual meeting at Christ Church. The meeting will begin with the 5:00 PM service on January 14. To welcome them to Charlotte, the Christ Church Choir will sing for this service.

Sunday, January 21, Bach Akademie Charlotte will perform in concert at Christ Church at 7:30 PM under the direction of Scott Allen Jarrett, Artistic Director. This concert will feature the internationally acclaimed Counter-Tenor, Reginald Mobley. Tickets are available on their website at www.bachcharlotte.com.

Sunday, February 4 at 5:00 PM, the Christ Church Choir will sing Evensong in honor of the Feast of the Presentation of Christ in the Temple. Evensong will be followed by a said Holy Eucharist.
